MESA WINS 3-2 IN ERRORLESS GAME WITH TEMPE GRIZZLIES

Remarkable Form Shown by Southside Teams in Perfect Exhibition on the Jewels' Lot—Nutt Smites Out Homer

BY SCOOP

When lining after lining of Paul Julius Langowski's victorious baseball battle with Tempe was reeled off at the Jewels' lot yesterday evening, and Mesa's game was maintained, and neither team committed errors or omitted those plays that make fans glad, it began to look to much like mid-season ball, and I set to Paul Julius about as follows: "Thurs nice ball."

And he said to me, "You're darn tootin', and we are going to keep right on putting up that brand of stuff—why? Because they want it, and because we can give it to 'em, only we won't keep on doing it on THIS field very much longer."

And they certainly were playing in mid-season form, as any man-jack of the two hundred enraptured fans will testify.

Hall was just as steady as though he had been hurling two months, and maybe that's because he had to acquire some practice while showing the High Schoolers how to inquire in the G. Amer. Pastime.

Lerchy Oviello—still spelling his name without the Irish apostrophe, certainly surprised us all. We know he was a real old ballplayer, but we thought he was too much of the second adjective—especially at this early stage of the game.

The Scoring
Mesa didn't wait until very long to score. R. Brown clouted out a two base hit, which, with Morris' immediate sacrifice put the local shorts in scoring distance. Williams contributed a single to left, scoring Brown. Bond heaved his stick wildly at nothing, and Mullins repeated Brown's double sucker, sending Williams across. Shumway made an infield out.

Tempe drew a blank this inning, but in the next Husky Herb Hall delivered a tempting one right over to Nutt, who showed a lot of old time form by smacking it over the fence for the one homer of the game.

In the second inning last half, Hall walked. Beal flew out to Harris. P. Brown singled to deep center, scoring Hall from second. Morris singled to left but Williams dumped one to a fielder.

In the last half of the ninth, Tempe menaced the two run lead of the home team by acquiring a lonely run. It happened thus: Griffen was out in the infield. Nutt doubled. McCrary was out at first. Brown, to Bond. Butler singled sharply to left, scoring Hall. Castle fanned.

The same teams, with practically the same line ups will meet on the same field at the same hour next Sunday.

"Directum I" May be World Record Breaker at Phoenix

Pacing Champion Sold to New Yorker, Who is Sending String to Coast. "Pop" Geers' Troupe May Come Here

"Directum I," 1:58, the running, pacing champion, has been sold for $10,000 to Mr. N. E. Sturgess of New York.

Mr. Sturgess has placed "Directum I" with Tommy Murphy, the champion driver and the leader of the big six of the Grand Circuit.

Mr. Murphy will now have four champions in his string, "Directum I," 1:58; "Frank Bogash," 1:59; "Annie Bradford," 2:01 1/2; and "Peter Bolo," 2:03 1/4. Phoenixians are interested in this string of horses because Mr. Murphy expects to bring them to San Francisco for the race meets at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and possibly bring them all to Phoenix.

Last year there were 1,487 race meets held in United States and Canada and only about 30 of them were held on mile tracks, the rest of them being held on one-half mile ovals.

Phoenix has one of the one-half dozen grade tracks in the western hemisphere. When properly prepared, there is not a faster track in the world than the mile regulation track on the Arizona State Fair grounds.

It would be a great thing for Arizona if Mr. Murphy could be induced to bring his champions to Arizona. It is well known that he hopes to capture a number of world's records this coming season and if the name of Tommy Murphy, the Arizona State Fair and a couple of world records could be linked together, what an advertisement it would be.

There is another string of horses coming to the exposition who have promised to come to Phoenix whenever they come west and that is the string owned by Frank Jones of Memphis, Tenn., and driven by "Pop" Geers. There is "Anvil," "Dodie," "Archdale," and "Etawah," all trotters and all able to trot in a round 2:02. This year Mr. Jones is going to make an effort to lower the straiten records held by the Great "Harvester," 2:01, with either "Anvil" or "Etawah."

There has been much speculation and much effort to get Mr. Jones and Mr. Murphy to agree to a matched race between "Etawah" and "Peter Bolo." If such a matched race could be arranged to occur at the Arizona State Fair, it would command the attention of the entire world. These two young stallions are conceded to be the two greatest trotters in the world today and all records, it is believed, will fall before one or the other by the end of next season.

Both have been the sensation in the harness world for the last two seasons as youngsters and they have now attained the age at which they may be expected to do their best.

PITCHER GRINER NEEDS NEW SPARRING PARTNERS

St. Louis baseball writers say that when it comes to swapping punches, Pitcher Del Griner of the Cardinals is a real white hope. Last year Griner took decisions from Cather, Wingo and Magee. Cather was sold to the Braves and Wingo to Cincinnati, while Magee jumped to the Reds, so Hoggins will have to sign up a few more sparring partners for the Dike boy.

MASTER CARBURETOR ON RESTA'S WINNER

Jack Smith, head of the Master Carburetor sales force of the Southwestern Carburetor company received an exhibitor wire from the factory yesterday:

"D. Resta's Peugeot, winner Grand Prix San Francisco Master equipped. Hoemay."

"I am sorry it wasn't a speed race," quoth Jack, "for we would have had a good exhibition of what the old mixer valve will do. But anyhow, the best carburetor won. Master has a big list of race victories to its credit."

key." This statement was immediately disproved by the discovery of a half filled half pint bottle on the table in his room. Morrell also found about fifty empty bottles scattered about the premises.

Faught had been carrying on his operations in Johnson's pool room, located above Goldberg's clothing store. He was undoubtedly the largest vendor of the wet goods. When arrested he had over $10 in his clothes, said to be the proceeds for the day. He was doing business in a quiet unostentatious way, slipping the bottles to his purchasers from the toilet in the rear of the room.

His price varied from $1.50 to $2.00 per pint, and from $2.50 to $3.00 per quart. Some difficulty was had in obtaining a confession from him, but finally seeing the uselessness of denying the charges he came through with a complete confession.

Black, an employee of the Phoenix Wood and Coal company, was very frank about his transactions, openly acknowledging his deals in the whiskey. He confessed immediately, and began making arrangements for an extended stay in the county jail. He expressed a regret that he had not brought along a pack of playing cards, with which to while away the time.

Hernandez, the Mexican, was doing business in the vicinity of Seventh avenue and the railroad tracks. He was caught with the goods on, and when confronted with the evidence in the sheriff's office, quickly acknowledged the truth of the accusations.

The two negroes, were detected in the act of disposing of their wares in the vicinity of China Alley. Previous to her arrest, the woman, had been approached at her home, the officer trying to buy whiskey from her there. She disclaimed any connection with that form of alcohol, but offered the officer a half pint of gin, "for four bits more."

The men, most of whom are in the county jail, will be brought directly before Judge Stanford of the Superior court this morning. It is in the province of the court to give them stiff fines, and a jail sentence. In speaking of this last night, Sheriff Adams said, "I hope that the judge gives each of them the stiffest fine possible, and with this staring them in the face, respective bootleggers, will not be so anxious to take chances. We are certainly going to stamp out this traffic."

RUTH AINSWORTH IS THIRD TIME WINNER

Splendid Work of Matchless Racqueteer Wins Her Trophy Cup

Miss Ruth Ainsworth Saturday won the ladies' handicap tennis cup offered by the Country club in 1913 for the winner of three seasons.

The tournament which began on Washington's birthday was concluded late Saturday afternoon when Miss Ainsworth played the final sets against Mrs. Charles McArthur winning the first 6-1, the second 6-3. Sixteen entered the tournament and the champion of the two preceding years, playing in four different matches was won in splendid form. If anything her game was an improvement over last year, and she did not vary her play throughout the long contest. While Miss Ainsworth's game is steady and even, it is her underhand stroke that marks her playing and makes her a feared adversary. Her scores of admirers regret that there are no ladies events in the border states tournament and an effort will be made at the June meet in El Paso to arrange this feature for the coming year.

There was a large attendance at the club and tennis was not the only attraction. Indoors a tea was in progress presided over by Mrs. W. C. Foster and Mrs. Anell Martin. There was a well fought contest of auction, the prize winner being Mrs. Logan Eisele.

RAILWAY PLEADS POVERTY

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 28.—To support its contention that the business was a losing one, the Philadelphia and Reading railroad has presented an abundance of facts and figures to the Public Utility commission of New Jersey, and Tuesday final arguments of the railroad in support of its increased passenger fares will be heard. The argument of attorneys for the commuters who oppose the increase will be heard.

LOVE COOLS IN 15 MINUTES

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—According to Angel M. Broshi, a teacher of languages, his wife deserted him fifteen minutes after the wedding ceremony. He told his story in municipal court last week, but Judge Sobath was puzzled when his wife testified that her husband was all to blame and she had obtained a warrant for his arrest because he deserted her. Broshi said he fitted up a flat but his wife would not live with him. The court of domestic relations is trying to bring about a reconciliation.

FARMERS PROTEST AGAINST LOSS OF DRY FARM STATION

Northern Cochise County is All Worked up Over Prospect That Experiment Station There Will Be Discontinued For Want of Appropriation; Letters Sent to Legislature

(Special to The Republican) WILLCOX, ARIZ., Feb. 28.—This section of Cochise county is now in a fever because of the prospect, which provision is made by the coming legislature, of losing a continuation of the splendid work of the dry farm experimental station conducted by the University of Arizona, near Chino. The farm has been of immense value to the dry farmers here who will greatly miss the opportunity it offers for obtaining knowledge and suggestions of practical value in operating their farms in this section.

One of the most important pieces of work that has ever been done for the agricultural interests of the state was the investigation which led to a determination of the availability and extent of the underground water resources of Cochise county valleys, of Los Animas and Sulphur Springs, and others, as well as the investigations which have proven to a large degree the best method of providing moisture for crops.

When the word reached here that there was a possibility that the legislature would cut down the appropriations on this important work, the farmers got busy and as a result numbers of letters have been sent to the Cochise county delegation in both house and senate, especially the senate, within the last week.

SENATE WILL RESUME

having nothing more to offer in the way of mine legislation.

Even now none of the members of either house will admit the necessity of an extraordinary session. But one thing is certain there will be one or else much more than half the bills now pending will not be acted upon.

Many of the senators say that would not be a public calamity. They will be content to pass upon the land bill, the prohibition bill, the appropriation bill and less than half a dozen others for the better guarding of the state's money and then adjourn.

The idea is entertained by many members of both houses that an extraordinary session would not be a good thing for the democratic party and that consideration will have weight with some of the members.

STATISTICS OF WAR'S LOSSES POINT TO FUTURE

Early in the war Lord Kitchener had said that the struggle might last three years. What seemed a mere rough estimate becomes far more significant examined by the few statistics yet available, which show the wastage of war.

Thus it seems fair to estimate that Germany has now in the field 2,000,000, France 2,000,000, Austria 1,000,000, Russia 2,000,000. England at no distant date will have 1,000,000 on the continent. Serbia and Belgium may be reckoned to have 250,000.

Now as far as Russia is concerned, her supply of men is for any ordinary calculation inexhaustible. That she can keep her European force at 2,000,000 for three years, despite battle losses, is hardly debatable. As to England, her ability to maintain an army of 1,000,000 on the continent indefinitely and despite losses, is equally to be accepted. It is different with France. Her available military population may be reckoned at 1,000,000. Of this she has already lost 1,000,000 by death, capture, disease or wounds. Half of this number may be reckoned as permanently lost. At this rate, France will be reduced at the opening of the third year of war to 2,000,000. With her allies she will then have 6,000,000 men. But her losses in this year cannot be made good, save by the new class coming to the colors in 1917 and levies from her colonies.

Now Germany may be reckoned to have had 6,000,000 men available for service in July, 1914; 600,000 more will be supplied by the combined classes of 1916 and 1917. German losses in the first six months may be estimated at 1,800,000. At this rate, 1,800,000 will be removed permanently from the German lines in each of the first two years of war. Thus at the opening of the third, Germany will still have 3,000,000 men to draw on. But her losses thereafter will be definite, because she will have exhausted her reserve. As to Austria, she has lost more than 1,000,000 already in her many disasters. She may still have 1,000,000 in the field, but a year hence, two years hence, she can hope for no more and her resources, too, will be completely exhausted.

Thus, as the third year of the war opens, not more than 4,000,000 Austro-Germans, the last line, will confront 6,000,000 Russians, British and French, helped some hundreds of thousands of Slavs and Belgians, behind whom still stand Russian and British reserves of at least 4,000,000. This means, with every discount for the roughness of the estimate, that sometime in the third year while Russia and Britain are still able to keep their armies at their present point, Austro-German forces will begin to decline rapidly and a tremendous advantage of numbers will belong to the enemies of Germany. Such is the statement of what may be called the mathematics of murder.—From "Half a Year of World War," by Frank H. Simonds, in the American Review of Reviews for February.
